

Blaser Mills

The Project

Blaser Mills decided to move their High Wycombe and Amersham offices into new premises over a 6 month period and the challenge was to move staff from their own or a shared office into an open plan environment being sympathetic to the needs of individual members of staff.

We embarked on a design process, working closely with the client in order to ensure we managed to achieve the aspirations and demands required. Once the design of the two offices was agreed we submitted our costings for new partitioning, carpet, data and electrical and air conditioning along with specifying new office furniture.

Along with the project management of the whole process we were invited to be involved in the disposal of all unneeded furniture and the implementation of a move management plan that involved ensuring all staff were able to move on a given date with the minimum of disruption to the business.

The High Wycombe office was refurbished on a six week timeline with the Amersham office taking a further six weeks and we managed to deliver both projects on time and to the satisfaction of Blaser Mills allowing them to move across to their new offices seamlessly and without business interruption.
