The Project

The challenge was to provide a working environment that allowed for various styles of working from desk top, meeting room, informal meeting and breakout.

This was achieved by creating a small glass fronted meeting room in otherwise a dead space area and installing a mobile meeting booth for informal meetings.

Bench style desking was supplied in order to ensure the cabling was kept clean and tidy and to allow for sharing of the workspace in larger numbers if required coupled with lockers provided for personal storage.
